Falmouth, Aug. 22.

THe 20 instant came in here the St. John of Lubeck, burthen 300 Tuns, laden with Wines and Brandy, bound for Lubeck. The same day came in the Phoenix of Topsham, Thomas Lovey Master, bound for Milford, who says, that the same day about 3 in the afternoon he saw between the Blackhead and the Lizard, about a League off of the shore, a Turks man of War of 36 Guns, that the Turks manned out their Boat to come on board him, but the wind freshning at W. N. W. got clear of them.

Plymouth, Aug. 23. The 21 instant came into this Port, Sir Robert Robinson, with a Squadron of 10 men of War under his command, and sailed again the next morning very early. This day the Royal Oak sailed with a great many Merchantmen under her Convoy, for the Streights.

Naples, Aug. 10. The Spanish men of War are not as yet arrived from Palermo, but hourly expected. In the mean time our Viceroy has hired several vessels to transport the Troops designed for Catalonia and Milan. From Messina they write, that the Prince de Gonzague, Viceroy of that Kingdom, does wholly apply himself to settle the affairs there, which had been put out of their course by the late troubles, but that he proceeded with some severity against those who had quitted their Countrey, and retired with the French, with relation to the Estates they left behind them, which had been all seized, and disposed of to the profit of the King. We are told that we shall have suddenly a new Viceroy here, the Marquis de los Velez, our present Viceroy, his term being expired.

Venice, Aug. 13. On Sunday last passed through this City the Constable of Colonna, in his way to Milan, where he means to pass some time. The Senate hath made choice of Signior Mocenigo to be their Ambassador at Constantinople. From whence we have an account, that the Deputies of the Republick of Ragusa continue not only under a close imprisonment, but are very severely Treated, and even threatened with death, in case that State doth not speedily pay the sum demanded of them.

Nuremberg, Aug. 19. We have Letters from Bohemia, which say, that the Rebels in Hungary were grown so strong, as that they had possessed themselves of Esperies, a very important place; and the more at this time, for that it hindred the conjunction of the Imperial Forces. The City of Strasbourg hath made very earnest instances to the Dyet at Ratisbonne, for assistance in the danger they are at present in, which however is, it's hoped, not so great, but that the Imperial Army will be able to secure them against all the attempts of the French, who are at present posted in their Neighborhood.

Savern, Aug. 23. The French Troops, among other Villages have burnt Schickem, which belongs to the City of Strasbourg, and will for the future treat the Inhabitants and Subjects of it as declared enemies, for those Magistrates have made a Treaty Offensive and Defensive with the Imperialists, against France. The Mareschal de Crequi has made three detachments, the first is gone into the Wanzenaw, the second consisting of five squadrons of Horse, and two battallions is marched to Blobsheim to cover the Bridge there; and the third, composed of three thousand men, are come into our neighborhood to guard this passage; the main of the French Army, remaining encamped between Brumpt and Hohenfelden, where they continue to burn and destroy all the Countrey round to take away all subsistence from the Imperialists. The great heats, we hear, have caused some sickness in the French Army, which is, however said, to be in a good condition. In the mean time the Duke of Lorraine continues encamped on the other side the Rhine, between Rastadt and Stalhoffen, having caused some Troops to pass on this side, under the command of the Generals Schultz and Capra, who are posted about Landau. Two days since a party of those Troops beat a French Party near the Forest of Haguenaw, and took a great many horses which were at pasture. To morrow the Mareschal de Crequi will decamp, and march towards Paffenhoven.

Strasbourg, Aug. 26. Prince Herman of Baden, General of the Imperial Artillery, continues still here, and is at present somewhat indisposed. On Tuesday last one of our Parties met a French Party near Hausbergen, beat them, took 22 prisoners, and killed a great many. The 24 the French Army decamped from Brumpt, and as we hear, marched towards Paffenhoven. The Imperial Army moves likewise, in order to their passing the Rhine.

From the Imperial Camp at Swartzach, Aug. 26. The French Army we hear is coming down to Haguenaw, and seems to have design to attack the body of our Troops, which the Duke of Lorraine caused to pass the Rhine under command of Capra and Schultz, and which being reinforced with 6000 men, that came from the Electorate of Treves, and the Dutchy of Luxemburg, is posted between Landau and Langencandel. This morning our Cavalry began to march towards the Rhine, in order to their passing it, the Infantry is come to Rastadt, and to morrow the Duke of Lorraine will follow with the rest of the Troops. There is a report, as if the French would demolish Fribourg.

From the Mareschal de Crequi's Camp at Werdt, Aug. 27. The 24 the Mareschal de Crequi, after having taken a review of the Army, decamped from Brumpt, and marched to Paffenhoven, where we continued the next day; yesterday we marched again, and came hither. The Sieur de Monclai remains with a small Body of Men between Strasbourg and the Wanzenaw, and the Sieur de Langallerie is posted with some Troops at Molsheim, for the security of our Convoys, which come to us from the Upper Alsace. The Imperial Army continues on the other side the Rhine, between Rastadt and Stalhoffen, where they have been joyned
